

ONE MORE LICENSE FOR WESTERLY

Likely to be Issued Monday—Automobile Blazes Up—Moving Buildings From Court House Site Continues—Electric Spark and Broken Gas Pipe Started Millinery Fire—Westerly Owned Schooner Damaged at Onset, Mass.

When the town of Westerly voted in favor of liquor licenses, a year ago, members of the town council who take pride in being recognized leaders in opposition to license were favorable to issuing licenses to the limit, that is, one license to each 200 of inhabitants, although the number of licenses could be lessened by the council. It was argued that it was the first time that Westerly had been voted into the license column, and it was the unanimous vote of the council that the full limit allowed by law be granted, and, as some of the radicals expressed it, by operating seven saloons in the town the people would be given demonstration of the evil effects of the saloon, and that a year hence Westerly would return to the vacated niche in the no-license column.

The prophecy of some of the councilmen proved to be as unreliable as the prognostication of most weather prophets, for this year the town voted for license by a majority twice as large as was the year before. With a single exception the council of this year is the same as last, and therefore could not consistently recede from the action of a year ago, as is the number of licenses to be issued, nor to renewal of licenses that had been issued, as the liquor dealers had conducted the business in compliance with law. No objection was made against the renewal, although one of the councilmen declared at the public hearing, when the renewal of application for a license in the vicinity of the residence was called, that he expected a man to be present to object to this license and he was disappointed at his failure to materialize.

It so happened that the one who held the license last year did not apply for renewal, and there were several applicants for that license. Two of the applicants showed that the proposed locations were not far from the residence of another councilman, and his signature was attached to the remonstrances against the granting of license to those applicants, and both were refused. The single license was held up, and will probably be issued at the council meeting next Monday.

Schooner Atlanta, M. Jagger, named for a Westerly young woman, and principally owned here, was damaged while in the harbor at Onset, Mass., Wednesday. The vessel was laden with sand, and was just after leaving the wharf, and before getting well underway, swung around and the stern struck on a rock, and the vessel soon filled with water, and with the tide falling, so that she could not be hauled off. A New London vessel was sent to the rescue of the Atlanta, and she was taken out on maine railroad tracks. The damage is comparatively small.

Many of the friends of the late Bernard Halpin, including comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, attended the funeral Friday morning, accompanying the remains from the Halpin residence in West Broad street to St. Michael's cemetery. Rev. J. J. Neale was celebrant at the requiem mass and the attendance at the church was quite large. Survivors were M. J. Keeler, Thomas Cowley, John Mahoney, William H. Casey, Jeremiah J. Purcell and James M. O'Connell.

Town Solicitor Harry B. Agard had a narrow escape, although one of the Friday afternoon, when at the junction of High and Broad streets, Mr. Agard was crossing the street, he was stepped and fell on the rails of the Pawcatuck Valley Street Railway company at the intersection with the rails of the Norwich-Westerly Traction company. A car of the latter company was passing just at the time, and Mr. Agard came very near the rear wheels of the passing car. He regained his feet without assistance, and his injuries consisted of minor bruises.

While standing in front of the store, the automobile delivery wagon of the Segar company became enveloped in flames from an unknown cause, and the driver was endeavoring to crank the engine. Immediately the driver tried to subdue the flames with his coat, and was thus engaged.

MYSTIC

Miss Carney's Death Follows That of Mother and Brother—Fire in Dye-house at Royal Linen Mills—L. O. O. F. Roll Call Planned.

Miss Bridget Carney died at her home on Church street after an illness covering two weeks. Miss Carney had not been well for some time and the death of her only brother, John Carney of Westerly, three weeks ago, and her mother's death two weeks ago, proved too much for her to bear. She was born in Mystic, where she had always resided. She leaves three sisters, Miss Rose Carney of Mystic and Mrs. Thomas Gentry and Mrs. John Gilmore of Stonington.

Fire in Dye-house. At 4:35 Friday afternoon the whistle in the Royal Linen Mills blew and later the fire alarm at the Mystic power station. It was discovered that the dye-house at the Royal Linen Mills was on fire. The company used their own hose but to no avail and at five o'clock the members of L. O. O. F. Hoxie engine company of the East Side and the Mystic hook and ladder company of the West Side were at work, playing two streams on the fire. The men fought well to put the blaze out as it was discovered before it had gained much headway, the greatest damage was done by water. The Royal Linen Mills were built by Capt. Mark L. Gilbert and have been making good headway with the work being done there. No estimate of the loss could be ascertained Friday evening.

Roll Call, Committee. At the regular meeting of Stonington Lodge, Chapter 21, O. E. F. it was voted to have the roll call on the night of the installation of officers in January. This kind of roll call has been appointed. James Cooper, chairman, George D. Johnson, Herbert Gilchrist, Elmer Brown and Thomas Fox.

Ladies' Day at Clubhouse. Friday afternoon was ladies' day at the Mystic club, there being an unusually large attendance. Bowling and refreshments were served.

Heard About Town. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Himes of Providence, William K. Holmes of New York and Raymond Holmes of New Haven are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Holmes of Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hermes have returned from a week's trip to New York. John H. Hoxie, Jr. of Boston is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hoxie.

Richard Morgan of Cheshire school is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Morgan.

Waterman Wilcox has returned to Wallingford and Miss Helen Wilcox to Providence, after a visit to their father, Orrin A. Wilcox.

Prof. Clyde T. Cheney of New York is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flavius Cheney.

William Holiday of Lenox, Mass., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Holiday.

Joseph Kellogg of Rutland, Vt. is the guest of his grandfather, William W. Kellogg.

Only a Boy's Size. It is estimated that his successor will not be named until spring, the town council committee on highways assuming the duties until that time.

George Hart, superintendent of the Pawcatuck Street Railway company, is an old-time promoter affiliated at the dance of the Owls in New London, Wednesday night, and at the annual ball of the United Trainers' association Thursday night.

Now it is said that the owner of the present postoffice building and the section of a temporary postoffice building, the construction of which was begun during the construction of the new postoffice building, which will take about two years to construct and be in readiness for occupancy.

PROTESTS FILED IN COURT AT PUTNAM Creditors Do Not Want Arnold Released From Bankruptcy.

Putnam, Dec. 1.—Petitions protesting against the releasing of E. M. Arnold from bankruptcy were filed in the superior court here today. The three reasons given why his petition should be refused are that he failed to keep books or records of his transactions, that he transferred to C. S. Arnold seven tracts of land as security for a loan of $2,500, and that he transferred to F. P. Russell three tracts of land as security for a loan of $3,000. It is claimed that by the transferring of the land the other creditors were defrauded. Arnold was forced into bankruptcy on September 19, 1910, with liabilities of $20,000. Investors from nearly all the New England states placed money in his hands for investment on his alleged promise of high returns. Arnold claims that if he had not been forced into bankruptcy he would have been able to meet all his transactions. A hearing will be held in Willimantic December 11.

How To Stretch Out Your Wrinkles (From Beauty Culture)

An old-time wrinkle remedy that is wonderfully effective, and yet so harmless it can be put on the face of a baby without any bad result, is made by dissolving an ounce of salicylic acid in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathing the face in this solution—neck and hand, too, if needed—at once affects every line, wrinkle and furrow. The effect is to tighten the skin and underlying tissue, which virtually stretches out the wrinkles.

It is apparent that the same effect means the "drawing in" of folds and bagginess about the cheeks, neck, chin or hands. Ask the druggist for the powdered salicylic acid, which form is easily dissolved.
